উদ্দেশ্য : The role and entity of women started changing significantly both in the Western and Eastern part of the globe in and around 19th century. From gaining a ccess to education, exposure through social reforms and social changes in 19th century to the demand for varied rights in the 20th century, the identity of women has transformed in an unprecedented manner. The birth of feminist movement gave a new direction by means of its composite and comprehensive nature to an unparalleled manifestation of women's identity. In continuum, venturing into different aspects of lived experience that entails women's sufferings and position within the margins has charted into a body of writing within literature that both deconstructs and re-writes the woman entity. The webinar aims at exploring and locating within the genre that has carved a significant space within academia those spectrums which are yet to be highlighted.
